Finito Alexandro Magno Stampato in Venetia per Giovan Antonio et Fratelli da Sabio ad instantia di M. Damiano de Santa Maria nel - MDXXIX.

The date is followed by two pages of Greek verses by Demetrius Zenus. This is a volume of the greatest scarcity. Warton observes that "it was a common practice of the learned and indigent Greeks who frequented Italy and the neighbouring states about the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, to translate the most popular pieces of Italian poetry, and the romances or tales most in vogue, into these Greco-barbarous iambics. Pastor Fido was thus translated. The Romance of Alexander the Great was also translated in the same manner by Demetrius Zenus, who flourished in 1530, under the title of Αλεξανδρος ο Μακεδων and printed at Venice in the year 1529."

This account is quoted by Warton from Crusii Turco-Græcia. All the copies were most probably sent to the possessions of the Venetians in the Morea which may account for its very great rarity as no copy appears to have occurred for sale here or in France for many years.

 This is the celebrated Edition of the Polish Bible published by the Socinians from the Vulgate, at the expense of Prince Nicolas Radzivil, and printed at Brescz in Lithuania, and is one of the rarest books ever printed. For full particulars respectingits publication see Bib. Spencer. vol. I. p. 85, and Cotton's Typographical Gazetteer, p. 40. This copy is in very fine preservation, but wants an Alphabetical Table of Names at the end consisting of seven leaves. The preliminary matter and Text of the Scriptures is quite complete.

1026 BOCCACCIO (GIOVANNI). Incomincia il libro primo di Florio et di Bianzefiore chiamato philocolo che tanto e adire quanto amorosa faticha. Cõmposto per il clarissimo poeta Messer Johanne Boccacio da certaldo ad instancia di la illustre e generosa madonna Maria figluola naturale del inclito Re Roberto, fine copy with wood-cuts, from Cardinal Imperiali's Library,
Impressa in la excellentissima Citta di Napol. Regina della Italia, per Mastro Sixto Russinger, MCCCCLXXVIII.
 This edition of the Philocolo of Boccaccio is extraordinarily rare. The attention of Bibliographers appears to have been first directed to it by Laire in his Catalogue of Cardinal Lomenie's Library. "Tantæ Raritatis est Editio hæc, ut apud Bibliographos ne minima quidem hujus fiat mentio." Panzer and Brunet only refer to Laire's description. Notwithstanding nearly forty years are past since the period of Laire's notice, the Continental sales do not appear to have furnished a second copy; and a long time may elapse before another opportunity occurs to the Collector of securing this Edition of the Philocolo, one of the rarest productions of the Neapolitan press in the fifteenth century. A copy is in Lord Spencer's Library, and in that of Count Boutourlin of Florence. The present is quite complete, and contains 239 leaves.

Venetia, Vindelinus de Spira, MCCCCLXXVII.
 This is the first Edition of Dante published with a Commentary. Benvenuto da Imola lived about 1380. Among many other curious particulars it contains the following relative to Mahomet. "This Sinner was Mahomet, who became a Schismatic from the Holy Church in this manner. The aforesaid being a Cardinal of Rome both wise and one who had written much in the service of the Christian Faith, went to preach it in Africa, and was so full of grace that he brought over to Christianity almost all those parts. Now when he went there it was promised him by the Cardinals, if before thou comest, God does aught to our Sovereign the Pope, we will elect thee. Before he returned the Pope died, and the Cardinals chose another: when this man knew it he was angered, and began to preach all the contrary to that people. At last he seduced them to the pestiferous faith of the Saracens, which is death to the souls of those who believe in it. The Pope hearing of this change sent for him, but he would never come, and was excommunicated as a Schismatic and Rebel from the Holy Church."

The author of this valuable and interesting Chronicle is unknown. He speaks of the Relics preserved in Monasterio Loricensis Ordinis Sancti Benedicti, quas oculis nostris perspeximus. The History commences in 1138, and concludes in 1229. It contains many anecdotes relative to the state of Europe during that period, the conquests of the two Fredericks Barbarossa in Italy, and their Expeditions to the Holy Land. The following notice occurs of Richard I. Fuit autem Richardus Rex Angliæ homo ferocissimus, favorabilis, gloriæ cupidus, pecuniæ liberalis, quocunque ipsum trahebat sequens impetus, et quem ipsi Sarraceni et populus Christianus et alii timuerunt. In the year 1187, it is stated, Eo anno Fridericus imperator jam cruce signatus conventum Principum apud Nuremberg coadunavit ubi de pace terræ disposuit et in litteras redigi jussit, quas litteras Alamanni usque in præsens fridebrief id est litteras pacis vocant nec aliis legibus utuntur. Sed nec eisdem recte utuntur tamquam gens agrestis et indomita. Quarum tenorem huic operi duximus inserendum quotenus saltem lex tam decurtata non pereat de hominum memoria.

SALLUST. Here begynneth the famous cronycle of the warre, which the romayns had agaynst Jugurth, translated into englyshe by Syr Alexander Bercley preest, London, Rycharde Pynson, no date, 3 volumes in one, russia. A very curious volume.

 The Travels of Hayton into the Holy Land and Armenia, and his History of Asia, is one of the most valuable of the early Accounts of the East. A French Translation was published at Paris in 1529, in the curious work of Longdit Histoire Merveilleuse du Grand Empereur de Tartarie. The present is the only translation into English, and from the circumstance of its being printed by Pynson and bound with two other works, both translated by Barclay, was probably also made by him. It is a book of extraordinary rarity, no perfect copy that can be traced having occurred for public sale.

This is the first Edition of the work which has been supposed to contribute more than any other to smooth James's accession to the Crown. Its rarity and literary value will be appreciated by the following extracts from M'Crie's Life of Melville. "Fond of seeing this work in print, and yet conscious that it would give great offence, James was anxious to keep it from the knowledge of his native subjects until circumstances should enable him to publish it with safety. "With this view the printer being first sworn to secrecy," says he, "I only permitted SEVEN of them to be printed and these SEVEN I dispersed among some of my trustiests servants to be kept close by them." I have now before me a copy of the first edition (the present) and I have no doubt that it is one of the seven copies, (perhaps the only one now existing) to which that edition was limited. It is beautifully printed in a large Italic letter. Prefixed to it are two sonnets, the first of which entitled "The Dedication of the booke" is not to be found in the subsequent editions. On comparing this with the subsequent ones, I find that alterations were made in the work. For though all the charges against the Scottish preachers are retained, James found it necessary to drop or to soften some of his most unguarded and harsh expressions, and to give an ambiguous turn to the sentences which had created the greatest offence. For example in the original edition he says "If my conscience had not resolved me, that all my religion was grounded upon the plaine words of the scripture, I had never outwardly avowed it, for pleasure or awe of the vaine pride of some sedicious Preachours.' In the edition of 1603, that sentence stands thus, "I had never outwardlie avowed it, for pleasure or awe of any flesh." Several other alterations of the Text are quoted and the following among other sentences is omitted, speaking of the Islanders of Scotland, "Thinke no other of them all, then as Wolves and Wild Boares."

3785 JAMES THE FIRST. THE ARCHS OF TRIUMPH, erected in honor of the High and Mighty Prince James the First of that name King of England, and the Sixt of Scotland, at his Maiesties Entrance and Passage through his Honorable Citty and Chamber of London, upon the 15th day of March, 1603, invented and published by Harrison, and graven by Kip, PLATES AND DUPLICATE SERIES WITH VARIATIONS, EXCESSIVELY RARE,

Imprinted at London by John Windet, Printer to the Honourable Citie of London, 1604

 "This is a Book of extraordinary rarity, and one of the most curious relating to James the First. It is equally interesting to the Book and Print Collector. The Designs of the Triumphal Arches were by Harrison, the engravings by Kip, and the text written by Ben Jonson and Dekker. Walpole in his Anecdotes of Painting, says he never saw but one copy, which was in the library of the Duke of Devonshire, at Chatsworth. The indefatigable researches of Gough, discovered a copy in the Pepysian Library, and a third in the library of the Society of Antiquaries. The library of the Corporation of London, possesses an imperfect copy. The Duke of Buckingham has the plates without any portion of the text.

"Nearly twelve months," says Wilson in his Life of James I. "elapsed from the period of Elizabeth's death to his public entry from the Tower." James had lingered on his journey, "banqueting and feasting." This afforded the Citizens of London ample time to make splendid preparations for the reception of the King. They laboured without intermission. "The City and Suburbs were one Great Pageant."

"We have heard," says Mr. Gifford, "much of the expenses incurred by the temporary erections for the celebration of the late peace; but they shrink to nothing before the cost of the entertainments prepared for the reception of James."

This curious Copy was formerly in the Library of Mr. Woodhouse; but its present state may be considered unique, as Mr. Dent has added a duplicate series of the plates containing variations. It is confidently believed that no Collector has these plates in both states."

This very interesting account is extracted from Mr. Evans's notice of this copy in the Sale Catalogue of Dent's Library.

4263 Lodovici. L'Antheo Gigante. Beneath is a large wood cut occupying the whole page, the reverse contains the privileges of Clement VII. and the Venetian Senate, followed by a leaf on the recto of which is an address Lucretia M. B. a gli Lettori, on the reverse a sonnet of the Author to Madonna Lucrecia. The Poem begins on page 3: thus, L'Antheo Gigante di Francesco de Lodovici de Venecia novamente per lui composto ad instanza della magnifica Madonna Lucrecia et cetera Signora sua. The Poem ends on the recto of folio 162, with the following colophon: Fine dello Antheo gigante di Francesco de Lodovici cittadino Vinitiano per lui cōposto l'anno del nostro signore MDXXIII. et stampato in Venegia per Francesco Bindoni, et Mapheo Pasini compagni, nel'anno 1524. Adi 9 del mese di Luglio. Ad instanza della Magnifica Madonna Lucretia M. B. followed by the register. This is one of the very rarest of the Italian Romance Poems. It contains 30 cantos in octava Rima, and recounts the first adventures of Charlemagne against the Giant Antæus. It is not found in the most extensive Catalogues in this country or abroad. Fine copy in blue morocco.

4524 Missale aut Breviarium Romanum cum Calendario in Lingua Slavonica seu Dalmatica, 2 vol. Apud filios Gio. Francisci Turresani Venetiis Mense Martio, MDLXI.

This is a work of very great value in an Aldine Series. It is printed in red and black characters, in 2 volumes, and the date is in the second volume, with the printer's device on the reverse followed by 31 leaves. It has not been correctly described by any Bibliographer, and is, without doubt, the work alluded to in the following description by Renouard, Annales des Alde, vol. 2, p. 13.

"Liber Precum. Venetiis apud Filios Gio. Francisci Turresani, 1561."

"Ce livre mal annoncé dans la Serie, edition de 1803 l'est beaucoup plus exactement dans Bibliotheca Duboisiana No. 5504, on y lit, "Liber (forte Breviarium aut Missale Mozarabum) litteralis rubronigris eleganter impressum, Venet. &c. En tete du volume etoit cette note manuscrite." "Langue mozarabe ou muzarabe, dont il y a une eglise a Toledo en Espagne, &c." Ce volume nous fait connoitre que Francois d'Asola ou Turrisan se nommoit aussi Jean, et c'est je crois le seul document qui donne cette connoissance."

It was very unlikely that a work on the Mozarabic Service, only used in one church in Spain, should have been printed at the Aldine Press; whereas this Service Book was printed for the use of the Churches of Dalmatia and Sclavonia, and all the copies were probably sent thither, which will account for its excessive rarity.

" Le second volume est tellement rare que l'existence en a été ignorée de presque tous les Bibliographes, et que l'on en connait a peine cinq ou six exemplaires. Il passe pour certain que l'edition entiere fut séquestrée dès qu'elle eut été terminée. En 1695 elle se trouvait dans le Magasin d'un libraire a Bruxelles, ou elle fut entierement brulé lors du bombardement de cette ville par les Français. Il n'a donc pu se conserver que les exemplaires que l'auteur avait distribués." Brunet. This is the copy mentioned by Brunet as being in the possession of Messrs. Longman.

INDEPENDENT of extraordinarily rare and valuable works in other departments of literature, a few remarks may be allowed upon the most prominent feature of the present Catalogue—the series of English Dramatic Productions, commencing with the infancy of our stage.

It may be asserted without hesitation, that so complete an assemblage of Plays, extending from the earliest period at which they were printed down to the closing of the Theatres in 1647, when this branch of our national literature underwent an entire change, was never before brought to the hammer: it includes the private acquisitions of Mr. Heber during a life of research, as ardent as it was patient, besides nearly all the rarities in this class that have been publicly sold within the last forty years, for the purchase of which he always contended with monopolizing avidity. Various pieces here make their appearance, the existence of which has hitherto been barely known and sometimes altogether disputed.

A very singular portion of the Collection consists of dramatic performances prior to the introduction of Tragedy and Comedy, properly so called, and before any regular Theatres were constructed. Some of these will be found under the head of "Interludes," including The Pardoner and the Frere by the elder Heywood, the two unique pieces of Thersytes and Jack Juggler, The Trial of Treasure, and New Custom; while other Moralities, such as The Disobedient Child, Common Conditions, The Three Lords and The Three Ladies of London, and above all Tide tarrieth no Man, are inserted, either under the names of their authors, or under the titles of the separate productions.

Next in point of date may be named Plays by the Predecessors of Shakespeare, taking it as established, that he did not commence as a writer for the stage prior to 1591: all of these are of the greatest interest and of the most infrequent occurrence. Besides the works of Marlow (including that most rare specimen Dido Queen of Carthage, in which he was assisted by Nash), Kyd, Greene, Lyly, Peele, Munday, and Lodge, in the original editions, many pieces are inserted in the Catalogue under the head of "Anonymous Plays," which may never again be offered to the competition of those who know the value of early efforts in this department of our poetry. The Reign of Edward the Third (in the two editions of 1596 and 1599), The Fair Maid of Bristow, Sir Clyomon and Clamides, The Two Italian Gentlemen, The first part of Jeronimo, A Knack to know a Knave, and its counterpart A Knack to know an Honest Man, with many more scarcely less curious and important will here be met with. These belong to the infancy of our Romantic Drama before our greatest poet elevated it to maturity.

In the first editions of Shakespeare's undoubted productions Mr. Heber was particularly rich, and some of them appear to have been entirely unknown to Steevens and other Commentators, and are not contained in any existing Collection, public or private. To these are added first editions of most of the plays imputed to Shakespeare, and nearly the whole are in the finest possible condition, and form an incomparable assemblage.

After these we may notice the works of Shakespeare's Contemporaries, as printed while they were living, including the productions of Chapman, Jonson, Drayton, Beaumont and Fletcher, Day, Heywood, Marston, Dekker, Middleton, Webster, S. Rowley, &c. &c. The series anterior to the closing of the theatres in 1647, is completed by the addition of nearly all the Plays by the immediate followers of Shakespeare, who were also the disciples of his school: among them we need only particularize Massinger, Ford, Brome, W. Rowley, Field, Nabbes, May, Glapthorne and Shirley. To the writers for the Stage subsequent to the Restoration Mr. Heber did not pay so much attention, aware that it would be at any time comparatively easy to perfect his Dramatic Library. It will be seen, however, in future parts of the Catalogue, that very little remained to be done in this division.

There is a class of productions embraced by the present Catalogue which even in this brief and cursory notice ought not to be passed over: we refer to Masques and Pageants. Among the Masques will be found several by Campion, the rarest of their kind, and others, never reprinted, by Chapman, Dekker, Middleton and Heywood. Of the Pageants, some of the most remarkable are anonymous, such as the ceremony of Receiving Queen Elizabeth into Norwich, Speeches delivered to her at Bissam in 1592, the Entertainment of the Prince Palatine and the Princess Elizabeth in 1613, &c. Others were in celebration of different Mayoralties by Poets employed for the purpose by the City, and are avowedly the productions of Munday, Dekker, Heywood and Jordan.

CORRECTIONS AND ADDITIONS.

926 C. (J.) John Cooke, add First Edition.

1118 Carew. There is no other edition.

1190, 1191, 1192, 1194, 1195, 1199, 1203, and 1204. These Plays of Chapman were never reprinted.

1685 Day (John); add to Note. "England's Joy" is reprinted in the Harleian Miscellany. It was written by Wm. Fennor, and the original is in the Library of the Society of Antiquaries.

1690, 1691, 1695, 1696, 1698, 1699, 1700, and 1701. These Plays of Decker were never reprinted.

2160 Field (N.) This is the only Edition.

2161 Field (N.) This is the second Impression.

2239 Gascoigne's Glasse of Governement was never reprinted after 1575.

2334 Gosson (S.) The second of these tracts is anonymous, and according to Gosson was written by a person who afterwards was himself the author of Plays. Gosson laments over him in his "Plays Confuted." No other copy is known of Lodge's Tract.

2468 Greene's (R.) Orlando Furioso, add First Edition.

2472 Greene. This is the only Edition.

2710 Heywood's (T.) Edward the fourth. There was no Edition without a date; it is a blunder of the Biog. Dram.

2721, 2722, 2723, 2728, 2729, 2730, and 2734. These Plays of Heywood were never reprinted.

2972*The Note is not correct. It is mentioned in the Biog. Dram. only Trial is there spelt Tryall. There is a copy at Oxford.

3473 Lodge (T.) This is the only Edition.

3766 and 3769. These Plays of Marlow were never reprinted until a few years ago.

3807 The note is incorrect. Among the Royal MSS. in the British Museum is an Autograph Poem by Massinger, and signed with his name.

4001, 4005, 4006, 4010, 4014, and 4017. These Plays of Middleton were never reprinted.

4096, 4100, and 4103. These Plays of Nabbes were never reprinted.

4105 Nash (T.) This is the only Edition.

4391, 4394, and 4395. These Plays of Peele were never reprinted separately.

4610 Arden of Feversham. The first Edition appeared in 1592.
4625 English-men for my Money. This Play is by William Haughton; this is ascertained from Henslowe's Diary.
4629 The Faire Maid of Bristow. This Play is by John Day—on the same authority.
4635 George a Greene. This Play is by Robt. Greene, and is printed as his by the Rev. Mr. Dyce. The curious MS. Note in this copy is in the hand writing of Sir G. Buc, Master of the Revels in the Reign of James I.
4642 The two Italian Gentlemen. This Play is by Anthony Munday. Another copy exists with the Dedication, subscribed A. M. vide "Collier's History of Dramatic Poetry," vol. III. p. 242, where it is printed.
4644 Jeronimo. There is another copy in the British Museum. It is no doubt by Thomas Kyd.
4653 Lingua. This Play is by Anthony Brewer.
4667 The Queen's Arcadia. By Samuel Daniel. A copy is in the Duke of Devonshire's Collection.
4670 Solimon and Perseda. This is the only Edition.
4681 Wily Beguilde. This is not the first Edition. The first was published in 1606.
4895 Preston (T.) This is the only Edition.
5193 Rowley (W.) There never was a second Edition.
5370 Sampson (W.) This is the only Edition.

457 Beaumont (Francis) The Masque of the Inner Temple and Grayes Inn; Grayes Inne and the Inner Temple presented before his Majestie, the Queenes Majestie, the Prince Count Palatine, and the Lady Elizabeth their Highnesses in the Banquetting house at White-hall, 1612

Imprinted by F. K. for George Norton, n. d.

This Masque is dedicated to Sir F. Bacon, and is mentioned by Dugdale Orig. Jurid. as having been performed at a great expense. "The Statuæs enter in the first Anti Masque attired in cases of gold and silver close to their bodie, faces, hands, and feete. It pleased his Majestie to call for the first Anti Masque again at the end, but one of the Statuæs was by that time undressed."

545 Bible. The Pentateuch, Translated by Tyndale, Emprented at Malborow, in the lande of Hesse, by me, Hans Luft, the yere of our Lorde MDXXX.

This is the first Edition of the Pentateuch, or indeed of any portion of the Old Testament, in English. Dr. Cotton records only 4 copies, The British Museum, Baptist's Museum Bristol, Sion College, and Mr. Tutet's, sold in 1786 (probably the present); The B. M. wants the 1st and 8th leaves of Genesis, 57th of Deuteronomy and the last leaf. Dr. Gifford's copy wants the book of Genesis, and that in Sion College the whole of Deuteronomy; it has likewise the marginal notes cut off as directed by an Act of Parliament, 1542. The present copy is in sound condition, but wants the 8 preliminary leaves to Genesis, the Title to Exodus, a wood cut of Aaron at p. 50, the Title to Leviticus and Numbers, and an explanation of some Hebrew words occupying part of the last leaf, in all twelve leaves. Notwithstanding these defects it is a volume of great importance in any Collection of early English Bibles.

 "To be briefe what was done, was so done, as being by the Approbation of many, said to be well done; then I doubt not, but it may merit the mercifull Construction of some few, who may chance to Sweare it were and was most excellently ill done. Zeale procured it; Love devis'd it; Boys perform'd it; Men beheld it; and none but fooles dispraised it." From the Address to the Reader.

 This play contains an Epitome of the Travels of the Shirleys. It also includes the story of the Merchant of Venice. W. Kemp, the Actor, is thus introduced.

"Sir Ant. Welcome honest Will, and how doth all thy fellowes in England.

Kemp. Why like good fellowes when they have no money live upon credit.

Sir Ant. And what good new Plays have you.

Kemp. Many idle toyes, but the old play that Adam and Eve acted in bare action under the figge tree draws most of the Gentlemen.

Sir Ant. Jesting, Will.

Kemp. In good earnest it doth sir.

Sir Ant. I partly credit thee, but what Playe of note have you?

Kemp. Many of name, some of note, especially one the name was called England's Joy. Marrey hee was no Poet that wrote it, he drew more Connies in a purse nette, then ever were taken at any draught about London."

England's Joy is mentioned in the 10th Volume of Dodsley's Collection, p. 172, and the play of Adam and Eve may allude to the Chester Whitsun Plays, of which a curious account is given in the Biographia Dramatica, vol. 2, p. 95.

2104 Fryth (Jhon) A Disputacion of Purgatorye made by Jhon Frith whiche he deuided in to thre bokes. The fyrst boke is an answere unto Rastell, which goeth aboute to proue purgatorye by naturall Phylosophye. The seconde boke answereth unto Sir Thomas More, which laboureth to proue purgatorye by scripture. The thyrde boke maketh answere unto my lorde of Rochestre which moost leaneth unto the doctoures. "Beware lest any man come and spoyle you thorow phylosophye and deceytfull vanite, thorow the tradicions of men, and ordinacions after the worlde, and not after Chryst." Collos. II.

An other boke against Rastel named the subsedye or bulwark to hys fyrst boke, made by Ihon Frithe presonner in the Tower. "Awake thou that slepeste and stonde uppe from deeth, and Chryste shall geve the lyght." Ephesians V.

Without date, place, or Printer's name.

Of these two extremely rare tracts, Dr. Bliss gave an account in the Censura Literaria, vol. 3, p. 45. These are the copies there described, and the volume contains much curious matter relative to Frith in the hand writing of Dr. Bliss. The account given in the Censura Lit. is inserted in the volume; it concludes thus:—"So imperfectly does Wood mention both of these works, that I am tempted to suppose he never was able to procure a sight of them: nor have I ever heard of or seen any other copies than those from which the above titles are given." P. B.

2105 Fryth (John) A boke made by John Frith prisoner in the tower of London, answeringe unto M. More's lettur, which he wrote agenst the first litle treatyse that John Frith made concerninge the sacramente of the body and bloude of Christ, unto which boke are added in the ende the articles of his examinacion before the bishoppes of London, Winchestur and lincolne, in Paule's church at London, for which John Frith was condempned and after burent in smithfelde with out newgate the fourth daye of Juli Anno 1533. Imprintid at Monster 1533 by me Conrade Willems. Johan Fryth's Patrikes Places, *eight leaves, no date, same type. 2334 Gosson's (Stephen) Playes confuted in five Actions, proving that they are not to be suffred in a Christian common weale, by the waye both the Cavils of Thomas Lodge, and the Play of Playes, written in their defence, and other objections of Players frendes, are truely set downe and directlye aunsweared. Londonfor T. Gosson, n. d. A Second and Third blast of retrait from plaies and Theaters: the one whereof was sounded by a reverend Byshop dead long since; the other by a worshipful and zealous Gentleman now alive. H. Denham, 1580. Thomas Lodge's Replye to Stephen Gosson—wanting the Title. 3 Tracts in 1 vol.

 "The two first treatises in this Vol. are by Stephen Gosson, serving as a sequel to his "School of Abuse," which first appeared in 1579, and being answered by Thos. Lodge in the tract which stands last in the vol.: G. replied as above. Gosson was also the author of another attack of the same kind, at the end of a little Vol. entitled "The Ephemerides of Phialo," which contains at its close, "A short apologie of the Schoole of Abuse, against Poets, Pipers, Players and their excusers, Imp. by Tho. Dawson, 1579, 12mo.

The Tract by Lodge, at the end of the present Vol. is one of the rarest in the whole compass of Ancient English Dramatic Literature—and neither Mr. G. Steevens or Mr. Malone were ever able to obtain a copy—the latter thought himself fortunate to procure a transcript. In fact only two copies are known, both without title, date, place or printer.

The present Vol. contains only 3 out of a remarkably curious collection of 8 pieces, bound together soon after the publication of the latest, somewhere about 1580. This may be ascertained by the antiquity of the handwriting, which exactly records them all, on the reverse of the title-page of "Players confuted." So late as 1781 they all remained together in Mr. Beauclerk's collection (see Cat. 4137) with the exception of "Gascoignes Delicate Diet for Drunkards." They seem afterwards to have passed into Mr. Nassau's Library, who divided them into 5 different vols., which are now all in my possession.

As to "Gascoigne's Delicate Diet," it is, I apprehend, the same copy contained in G. Steevens's collection of Gascoigne's Works, now in my possession—in fact no other is known." Note by Mr. Heber.

2452 Grammar. ACCEDENCE. This is a very fine copy of the edition thus described by Herbert. "It begins like Accidentia ex Stanbrigiana—printed in Flete-strete, and treats of the eight parts of reason, but they differ in several respects as to the manner of treating of them; this treating largely of the degrees of comparison, whiche the other does not so muche as mention. That gives the moods and tenses of the four conjunctions at large both active and passive, whereas this gives only a few short rules to know them by, &c. The Colophon is on the reverse of B. V. Prynted at Westmynstre in Caxton's hous by Wynkyn de Worde. On the reverse of the last leaf B VI. is the same cut as to Donatus Minor."

 This excessively rare Dramatic Piece is not divided into Acts. It is in part taken from Ariosto, though it would be difficult to say who was the Author of the following stanza, which is spoken by Orlando.

O Femmenelle in genio de toute malle sede,
Comete vulge, mute fachilmente
Contrario, zeto, propria de la fede:
O infelice, miserate, crede,
Importuna, superbia, dispetoze;
Preva di more, de fede de consilia
Timmorare, crudele, inique ingrate
Par pestelenze eternal monde nate.

Printed for J. B. and are to be solde in Paules Churchyard, at the Signe of the Pide Bull, 1608.

The recto of the second leaf contains the following Address To the Reader.

"It hath beene no custome in mee of all other men (curteous Readers) to commit my plaies to the presse; the reason, though some may attribute to my owne insufficiencie, I had rather subscribe in that to their seveare censure, then by seeking to avoide the imputation of weakenes to incurre a greater suspition of honestie: for though some have used a double sale of their labours, first to the stage, and after to the presse, For my owne part I heere proclaime myselfe ever faithfull in the first and never guiltie of the last; yet since some of my plaies have (unknown to me, and without any of my direction) accidentally come into the Printer's handes and therefore so corrupt and mangled (copied onely by the eare) that I have bene as unable to know them as ashamde to challenge them. This therefore I was the willinger to furnish out in his native habit; first beeing by consent, next because the rest have beene so wronged in beeing publisht in such savadge and ragged ornaments; accept it Curteous Gentlemen, and proove as favourable Readers as wee have founde you gratious Auditors. Yours, T. H."

3766 Marlow (Christopher) and Thomas Nash. The Tragedie of Dido Queene of Carthage: played by the Children of her Maiesties Chappell. Written by Christopher Marlow and Thomas Nash, Gent.
Printed by the Widdowe Orwin for Thomas Woodcocke, and are to be solde at his shop, in Paules Church-yeard, at the signe of the Black Beare, 1594.

This copy of the extremely rare first Edition of the Tragedie of Dido, is rendered particularly interesting by the autographs of its three former possessors, Isaac Reed, George Steevens and the Duke of Roxburghe.

Isaac Reed's Note :—

"At the sale of Dr. Wright's Library, 2d May, 1787, a copy of this Play of Dido, and the only one besides known to exist, was purchased by Mr. Malone for Sixteen Guineas."

George Steevens' Note :—

"This copy was given me by Mr. Reed. Such liberality in a collector of Old Plays, is at least as rare, as the rarest of our dramatic pieces. G. S." [The Duke

The Duke of Roxburghe's Note :—

" Mr. Warton, Hist. of Eng. Poetry, Vol. III. p. 433, note 9, observes that, " Nashe in his Elegy prefixed to Marlowe's Dido, mentions five of his plays "—surely this must be a mistake. But two copies of Dido are known to exist, and no verses of any kind are prefixed to either of them."

Three copies are now known of this play, one in the collection of the Duke of Sutherland, another in the Bodleian (Malone's) and the present.

4391 Peele (George). The Araygnement of Paris, a Pastorall. Presented before the Queene's Majestie, by the Children of her Chappell. First edition, beautiful copy, morocco, EXCESSIVELY RARE,
Imprinted at London, by Henrie Marsh, Anno 1584
 "The Araygnement of Paris displays great warmth and luxuriance of fancy, and is written in a variety of measures, each of which Peele seems to have employed with equal facility."—Peele's Works, edited by Mr. Dyce.

4392 ———— The Famous Chronicle of King Edward the first, sirnamed Edward Longshankes, with his returne from the holy land. Also the Life of Llevellen rebell in Wales. Lastly, the sinking of Queene Elinor, who sunck at Charing crosse, and rose againe at Pottershith, now named Queene-hith. First edition, imperfect. Printed by Abell Jeffes, and are to be solde by William Barley, at his shop in Gratious Streete, 1593.

4393 PEELE (GEORGE) THE FAMOUS CHRONICLE of King Edwarde, &c. Another edition, beautiful copy,
Imprinted by W. White dwelling in Cow-Lane, 1599
 Both these Editions are very rare.

4394 ——— THE OLD WIVES TALE. A pleasant conceited Comedie played by the Queenes Majesties players written by G. P. first edition,
Printed at London by John Danter, and are to be sold by Raph Hancocke and John Hardie, 1595
"The Old Wives Tale by G. P. (George Peele) 1595, is also in the Royal Library at the Queen's House, I have not heard of any third copy." MS. note by Steevens. A third copy is in the Duke of Sutherland's Library.
"In Longman's Cat. for 1817, was a copy of Peele's Old Wives Tale wanting the two last leaves." Note by Mr. Heber.
"In 1595, Peele's Old Wives Tale was printed, having been performed perhaps several years earlier. This play has been described in the Biographia Dramatica, and in T. Warton's edition of Milton's Minor Poems, as a production from which the great poet seems partly to have derived the plan and character of Comus; and consequently the students of English poetry are familiar with its name, but with its name only, as very few of them can have perused a drama of such excessive rarity." Peele's Works by Dyce.

4395 ——— THE LOVE OF KING DAVID AND FAIR BETHSABE. With the Tragedie of Absalon. As it hath ben divers times plaied on the stage, first edition, very fine copy, excessively rare, interleaved,
Printed by Adam Islip, 1599
 "His (Peele's) David and Bethsabe is the earliest fountain of pathos and harmony that can be traced in our dramatic poetry. His fancy is rich and his feeling tender, and his conceptions of dramatic character have no inconsiderable mixture of solid veracity and ideal beauty. There is no such sweetness of versification and imagery to be found in our blank verse anterior to Shakespeare." Campbell's Specimens.

4396 ——— The Battell of Alcazar fought in Barbarie betweene Sebastian King of Portugall and Abdelmelec King of Marocco. With the death of Captaine Stukeley, as it was plaid by the Lord High Admirall his servants,
Imprinted at London by Edward Allde for Richard Bankworth, 1594
 Shakespeare has ridiculed this Play in Henry IV. Part II. Act II. Scene 4. See the New Edition of Peele's Works by Dyce.

4551 Plays, a large Collection, nearly 500 in number, published in the 18th Century, and arranged alphabetically in 51 volumes.

Quarto.

4552 Perottus (Nicolaus) De Metris. Bononiæ (typis Balthasaris Azzoguidi,) MCCCCLXXI.
"First Edition: and questionless one of the rarest books in the world. It appears to have escaped the French Bibliographers, as no notice is taken of it in Brunet, and Panzer refers exclusively to the Askew Catalogue, p. 98, No. 2584. The type is precisely that of the first Ovid by Azzoguidi: and it is not improbable that this small volume may exhibit the first specimen of that printer's Press." Ædes Althorpianæ, Vol. II. No. 1315. Brunet notices the book in his Supplement recently published. The present is a beautiful copy.

4608 PLAYS (ANONYMOUS). ALARUM FOR LONDON, or the Siedge of Antwerpe, with the ventrous actes and valorous deeds of the lame Soldier. As it hath been playde by the Lord Chamberlaine his Servants, RARE,
Printed for W. Ferbrand, 1602

4609 ——— Androboros, a Biographical Farce, 171

4610 ——— Arden of Feversham. The Lamentable and true Tragedie of M. Arden, of Feversham, in Kent. Who was most wickedly murdered by the meanes of his disloyall and wanton wife, for the love she bare to one Mosbie, hyred two desperate ruffins, Blackwill and Shakbag, to kill him, very rare, black letter,
Printed by J. Roberts for Edward White, 1599
 Note by Mr. Heber:—"Dodd had not this first edition, neither had Smith, nor Farmer, nor Fillingham, nor the Duke of Roxburgh." The story is taken from Hollingshed.

4611 ——— The Bloodie Banquet, by T. D. - 1639

4612 ——— A New Bull Bayting, or a Match play'd at the Town-Bull of Ely (Oliver Cromwell) by Twelve Mungrills, viz. four English, four Irish, four Scotch Doggs, John Lilburn, Richard Overton, Thomas Prince, and William Walwyn, to Stave and Nose, with his Will and Testament, - - Nod-Nol. 1649

With KEMPS applauded Merrimentes of the Men of Goteham, in receiving the King into Goteham. Imprinted by Richard Jones, dwelling at the signe of the Rose and Crowne nere Holborne Bridge, 1594

This is an extremely rare Merriment, which exposes the vices of the age detected by honesty. It contains many allusions to old customs, among which is the following by Conicatcher:

"Why, I have bene a poste knight in Westminster this xii yeare,
And sworne to that which no one else would venture on."

4648 ——— A PLEASANT CONCEITED COMEDIE, called, A knacke to know an honest Man. As it hath beene sundrie times plaied about the Citie of London, fine copy, in morocco, very rare. This Play is not divided into Acts.

4665 ——— The Returne from Pernassus, or the Scourge of Simony. Publiquely acted by the Students in Saint John's Colledge in Cambridge,
Printed by G. Eld for John Wright, 1606

 This play contains criticisms of the principal Poets of the day which render it highly interesting. Spenser, Constable, Lodge, Daniell, Watson, Drayton, John Davis, Locke, Hudson, Marston, Kit. Marlowe, Ben Jonson, William Shakespeare, Churchyard and Nash are all passed in review.

The notice of Marston is very curious and Shakespeare is thus criticised :—

William Shakespeare.
Who loves Adonis love, or Lucre's rape,
His sweeter verse contaynes hart robbing life,
Could but a graver subject him content,
Without loves foolish lazy languishment.

4665* ——— Another copy, this edition differs from the preceding though it has the same title-page and date.

Printed by E. A. for William Blackwal, 1594

This Play is not divided into Acts, but written on the Model of the Greek Tragedy. About the middle of the volume is an address to the Audience in which the Author says,—

What wants in us imagin in the workes
What in the workes, condemne the writer of,
But if the worke and writing please you both,
That Zenophon from whence we borrow write
Being both a souldier and philosopher
Warrants what we record of Panthea
It is writ in sad and tragicke tearmes.
May moue your teares, then you content, our muse
That seemes to trouble you, againe with toies
Or needlesse antickes imitations,
Or shewes, or new devises sprung a late,
We have exilde them from our Tragicke stage
As trash of their tradition, that can bring
Nor instance, nor excuse. For what they do
In stead of mournefull plaints our Chorus sings
Although it be against the upstart guise,
Yet warranted by grave antiquitie,
We will revive the which hath long beene done.

And a Table necessary to fynde easly and lyghtly any story contayned in the fowre Evangelistes, and in the Actes of the Apostles, - MDXLIX.

This very rare Edition was unknown to Herbert and Dr. Cotton. The Title is in red and black, encircled by wood cuts; on the reverse the Almanac begins, which, with the office of all estates, and the list of the Bokes of the Newe Testament, occupies 8 leaves, including the Title Page. Then follows, William Tindale unto the Christian Reader, and Erasmus's Exhortacion, 18 leaves. The Testament begins on the following leaf, and concludes with the Table where in ye shall fynd the Epystles and Gospels after the use of Salsbury, on the recto of C c 6 in the third Alphabet. The other signatures run in eights. This Edition was probably printed from the third of Tyndal, 1536, as, like that, it omits the clause in 1 Peter, ch. 2, unto the Kyng as unto the chefe head, remarkably fine copy.

Newly set forth for their behoufe. Imprinted by Abraham Vele,

"The present copy formerly belonged to Topham Beauclerck, and I never saw or heard of another. It formed one of 8 very curious old Tracts, bound together in 1 vol. a MS. list of which in an ancient, perhaps contemporary, hand, was inscribed on the back of the title page of the first. From this Authority it appears that "Gilbert Walker was the Author of the present Treatise." All the pieces in the Volume, with the exception of one, viz. "Gascoigne's delicate Diet for Drunkards," occur in one lot in T. Beauclerck's Cat. (No. 4137) and the same again tho' separately bound in 5 different volumes in that of Mr. Nassau; being Numbers 798, 1354, 2106 in Part I. and 301, 1442, in Part II. They are all now (1824) in my possession."—MS. Note by Mr. Heber.

6158 Ubeda (Francisco de) La Picara Justina, Medina del Campo, 1605

6159 Uberto. Incomincia una nobilissima operetta dicta Philomena ne la qual se tracta prima de Uberto e Philomena; e poi de esso Uberto et Alba figlia dil duca di Bergogna. Beautiful copy of an Edition, probably the first, of a Poem of the greatest rarity. It is not mentioned by Audiffredi, Panzer or Brunet. The Prologue commences thus, "Poi che mia Fortuna over Destino vuol che ogni mio parlare sia pur damore; il qual nel mille quatrocento di aprile volse che io fosse a crescere il numero de suoi sugetti e con questo tal peso son io nel decimo anno transcorso, &c." and goes on to say that his "amorose pene hanno imbianchite le tempie a li quaranta anni." The Poem begins on the reverse of the first leaf, and concludes on the recto of the 103d leaf, followed by these words, Gabriel P. Impressit, MCCCCLXXV. probably Gabriel de Piero, who printed at Venice from 1472 to 1478.

6430 ———————— The same, another edition. Imprinted at London, in Paules Churche Yeard, by Abraham Vele, at the sygne of the Lambe. In blue morocco.

"The editor has been favoured with two copies of this moral Interlude; one of which is preserved in the library belonging to Lincoln Cathedral, the other is in the possession of Mr. Garrick: it was written in the reign of Edward the Sixth, by one R. Wever, of whom the editor can give the reader no further information. The former was printed at London by Abraham Vele; the latter is a very different copy from the other — a more obsolete spelling runs through the whole, and it contains great variations besides, which the reader will find out at the bottom of each page: the conclusion being imperfect, the printer's colophon is wanting, so that it cannot be known where this edition was printed. According to Dr. Percy's tables, it was printed by Richard Pinson.

"The design of this Interlude was to expose the superstitions of the Romish church, and to promote the reformation. The stage (as the learned Dr. Percy observes) in those days literally was, what wise men have always wished it — a supplement to the pulpit: chapter and verse are as formally quoted as in a sermon. See Prologue of the Messenger, &c. From this play we learn that most of the young people were new Gospellers, or friends to the reformation, and that the old were tenacious of the doctrines imbibed in their youth."—Hawkins's Preface to his edition of this Interlude.

The present copy of Abraham Veale's edition is the one mentioned by Hawkins as having been in Lincoln Cathedral, and the other edition contains all the variations mentioned by him; and, therefore, Dr. Percy was in error in supposing it to have been printed by Pinson.
